

Training Mission Statement

AkzoNobel Automotive & Specialty Coatings North America

AkzoNobel Automotive & Specialty Coatings North America is dedicated to providing superior and innovative collision industry-specific training programs that will promote our present and potential customers' profitability by understanding and meeting their requirements while anticipating future needs. These programs will allow our customers and employees to develop and enhance technical and business-related skills and knowledge needed to optimize quality, productivity and overall business profitability. Training will provide best-in-class instruction, utilizing industry benchmarks and standards, and include hands-on activities, classroom theory, and/or online delivery.

AkzoNobel

